

STATE OF HAWAII

Respondent.

'07 JUL 17 P1:51

After reviewing the motion, response, and pleadings in this case, the Commission does not find that the motion presents any facts or law to show that Final Decision is erroneous or should be reconsidered.¹ However, the Commission clarifies that in mixed motive cases where there are discriminatory and nondiscriminatory reasons for an adverse action, the Commission is not limited to granting declaratory and injunctive relief and has the discretion under HRS §§ 515-13 and 368-17 to award damages. The Motion is denied.

000696

Dated: Honolulu, Hawaii. July 17, 2007.

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Sara Banks", is written over a horizontal line.

SARA BANKS
ACTING CHAIR